Beacon of Hope Update

Thank you AWANA Clubbers and Church Family

As of this writing donations are coming in to fill the Sunrise truck for delivery to Beacon of Hope. Thank you for your generosity and for helping Beacon to be a blessing to others. Next month's newsletter will have more details about the amount collected.

Car Clinic

Those car guys were at it again! Thank you so much to the Men's Ministry and Agro-Culture Liquid Fertilizer for once again partnering to put on the car clinic where over 30 vehicles received an oil change and inspection.

Women Advisors Needed

More advisors are needed to talk one-to-one with female clients. To be an advisor you must be a member of First Baptist and have viewed the Share Jesus Without Fear video (Beacon has a copy to lend). If you are interested, contact Karen Leif.

So, How many people come to Beacon on Tuesdays?

Linda Patton (newly minted Beacon statistician) has been compiling the number of people who come to Beacon each week. An average of 45 clients came each week during the months of January and February. 67 different clients came at least once during the month of January and 62 during the month of February. These numbers do not include the husbands, friends, children, or others who may also accompany clients to the center. Now you know why Beacon is such a busy place on any given Tuesday evening!

Spring into action!

Spring is in the air and soon daffodils, tulips, and yard sales will be popping up all over. If you enjoy going to yard sales, please be on the lookout for the following items that Beacon can always use: dressers, cribs, bedding, towels, dishes, infant and children's clothing up to size 8, cookware, and bakeware. Please make sure all items are clean and in good repair.

Do you have something to donate to Beacon?

Items for Beacon of Hope can be placed in the bin on the coat rack next to the downstairs kitchen. Also, the Beacon of Hope Chest is located outside of the second set of double doors on the south side of the building. If you have a large item or large quantity of items, please contact Karen Leif to make arrangements.

“BY THE WAY, WHAT IS OUR POLICY ON.....”

Prayer Requests - - - - Submitted to the Church or Shared in Prayer Meeting

When sharing a prayer request about someone outside your family, you need to have the permission of the immediate family in order to share the request. Please remember that a medical diagnosis, a marital struggle, etc., is considered confidential information.

The only exception to this policy would be events that are common public knowledge. For example, if a person has been injured in an automobile accident which has been reported on the news, then praying generally for the person would be ok.

We certainly want to pray for people in need. But we also want to protect the dignity and privacy of those who do not want their needs made public.

Graduation Sunday, June 5th

We will honor our High School Graduates in the 11 AM Service and recognize our College Graduates in both AM Services

Parents and Graduates we need your help!!!!
We would like to include your graduate in the May communiqué and on the display easel in the foyer.

- - For High School students we need school graduating from, date of graduation and open house information by Tuesday, April 19th.
We will need pictures (wallet or proof size) by Tuesday, May 4th, for the display easel in the foyer.

- - For College graduates we need the date of graduation, college or university graduating from and the degree they are receiving by Tuesday, April 19th.

Parents/students: you may mail these items to the church office or place them in the secretary's box on the wall outside the church office.

An antique sewing kit, a pair of point-toed shoes, a butter cooler, an egg scale and even a tiny pistol were all on display at our "Antiques Roadshow" on March 15th. We heard how they were acquired, what they were used for and how valuable they were to the owners.

Twenty-two seniors attended and good food was once again enjoyed by all.

Pastor Ron reminded us of our "Before and After" picture portrayed by Paul in Ephesians 2:1-6. Fran Nelson read a "Senior Prayer" and we played a game proving that most of us are "Older Than Dirt".

We will be taking an early "summer break" from activities. If something comes up that would possibly interest our Seniors this summer, it will be posted in the Communiqué and on the Senior sign-up board.

Thanks to all who have joined us and helped out this year.

Dee Chapman & Fran Nelson

MISSIONS UPDATE:

BUSY HANDS FOR MISSIONS

On March 8th there were 11 ladies present and we tied two quilts, filled 110 ditty bags for Youth Haven and completed 25 CEF prizes. We then had a lovely potluck. We wish to thank four special friends who have been very helpful to us: a friend of Pam Snyder, Judy, who has been making ditty bags for us (114 so far); a friend of Janet Brown, Michele, has tied quilts and cooked the meat for our potluck; a friend of Fran Nelson, Jackie, has been sewing diapers and receiving blankets for Christian Memorial Hospital; and some Beacon of Hope clients have been making CEF prizes. Thank you all!

We will meet again on April 12, 9:30 - 2:30. Bring your lunch if you can stay. We are in need of washcloths, combs and toothbrushes. We can also use flannel scraps to pad those diapers that Jackie is sewing. Working for God's glory!

MISSIONS CLOSET

Dana Ingebretson with Campus Crusade for Christ was given some items from the Missions closet. She was very pleased to receive a hand made afghan, a set of green towels, a couple dishcloths, Jelly bean candle set and a set of plastic food storage containers for her new apartment at MSU.

Many items departed from the Missions Closet this month. Dorothy and Craig Johnson are making a home after serving for 21 years in the Philippines. They need many items and found twin bed sheets and comforter, dish towels and dishcloths, many Tupperware items, candles, glass bake ware, games and puzzles, VHS films, miscellaneous personal items, some items for their car and some books. Craig chose a number of new books from the Book Table for his library to replace those given away to others in the Philippines. Dorothy said most of their quilts they are using are ones the ladies made for them in past years.

Gift bags from the closet of a Tupperware storage container, a small candle, dishcloths, and note cards were made up for Debbie Price (Rural Bible Missionary who worked with the children during The Other Side of the Cross seminar), for Debby Sjogren and for Mrs. John Koenke.

- Thank you for your constant support to our missionaries in this tangible way.
Needs: athletic socks for men, women and children.

MISSIONARY DOLLARS AT WORK

A box including the following was delivered to Phil & Kitty McMillen by their daughter Karee: new Family friendly DVD's, vitamins, face cream and blood pressure kits. Also a box was packed and shipped to Africa Church believers with the following items: A dulcimer, harmonica, wooden spoons, music stand, recorder and a bugle.

- Clothing and used ink cartridges were delivered to the Rescue Mission.

ITEMS NEEDED FOR CARL AND LORI KRESGE FOR EURASIA FAMILY CONFERENCE

Lori and Carl Kresge will be traveling to Germany in June for the Eurasia Family Conference. Lori would like to make up gift bags for the ladies and include the single packets of decaf tea in all flavors (they usually come foil wrapped in a box) and various kinds of lip balm. If you'd like to help her, please leave the items in the Missions basket in basement near the kitchen/coat rack.

Cell number: +38-067-911-1385

Chad: 12/6/67

Leanna: 9/28/69

Married: 7/14/96

Children:

Katrina Mae: 8/22/98

Anne Ruth: 3/15/01

Jessica Hope: 3/17/03

Leanna was born in Odessa, Ukraine. She grew up in a Christian family. Because there were no Sunday Schools, her parents would take her to other children's homes where 5 or 6 families would gather to have a birthday party or celebration. It would actually be a time of teaching and learning about the Lord. She became a believer when she was 17. She thought of herself as a good girl but knew in her mind at the age of 14, that she was a sinner. She wondered why people believed in God and began to read the Bible on her own. The Holy Spirit convicted her of her sin and she trusted Christ as her Savior.

Leanna attended Bible School in Odessa in '91 and '92 where she learned to write Sunday school lessons and helped teach Sunday school (the first one in the former Soviet Union). She also taught the Bible in the state schools in grades 1-5. She was sent to Budapest to study English for 8 months. After traveling to a number of countries during language study, she was asked to return to Krasnoyarsk to work as a translator in the Bible College. This is where she eventually met Chad. She taught in the village Sunday school and helped coordinate the programs and preaching at the Bible College.

Chad grew up on a cattle farm in Kansas. He came from a Christian home and attended a Christian high school. He became a Christian when he was 15 through his church and chapel messages. As a freshman he did not want to follow Christ, but the Lord used John 10:10 in his heart. This verse caused him to want to share the Gospel with his friends and he began to develop a desire to become a missionary.

Chad graduated with a BA in Evangelism from Moody Bible Institute and did an internship at Wheaton where he served as an Assistant Youth Pastor. He asked the Lord to lead him and began to investigate different areas of the world and different mission agencies. After looking into a variety of places and meeting with different mission agency representatives, he knew his sending agency was to be SEND, International.

The Weibes' Ministry

Chad spent 14 years ministering in leadership training and church planting in Krasnoyarsk, Russia. In the summer of 2008, his family left Krasnoyarsk for a one year furlough in Kansas. They traveled to many churches to report on their work at the Krasnoyarsk Bible College. In June 2009, they moved to Kiev, Ukraine to begin a new church planting and teaching ministry.

Kiev has a well established MK school called Kiev Christian Academy. Daughters, Katrina and Annie attend KCA and Leanna serves on the school's board. Jessica is homeschooled. Leanna also works with the Sunday school at their church on reaching out to non-churched kids in the community.

Chad teaches at Kremenchuk Bible College and also leads a small group with new church members at his church. SEND asked that he also be involved in the area of missions' mobilization and possibly work with the start-up of a missions training center. He coordinates SEND 3M (Missionary Mobilization Ministry) and, along with Ukrainian Baptist Union pastors, has explored a 10-year plan for developing missions among the churches of Ukraine. They have started a mission's education program called Kairos based on Perspectives on the World Christian Movement. Their goal is to help churches throughout Ukraine gain a greater awareness of cross-cultural missions and start praying, supporting and sending their own to the least reached peoples of Eurasia and beyond. He has conducted four successful Kairos programs in Kiev emphasizing the need for churches to be more aware of its call to missions. They have also held a Facilitator's Training and now have a team of two Ukrainian national teachers for the program. Praise for the growing openness among church leaders in Ukraine to missions. Pray as Chad coordinates SEND Ukraine's goal to help Ukraine become a missionary sending country.

Food for Thought...A Challenge to be Thinking Christians

Discernment: Thinking God's Thoughts after Him

By Sinclair Ferguson

Sinclair B. Ferguson is an associate professor of systematic theology at Westminster Theological Seminary. His many books include John Owen on the Christian Life.

Someone I knew recently expressed an opinion that surprised and in some ways disappointed me. I said to myself, "I thought he would have more discernment than that."

The experience caused me to reflect on the importance of discernment, and the lack of it in our world. People do not see issues clearly and are easily misled because they do not think biblically. But, sadly, one cannot help reflecting on how true that is of ourselves, in the church community too.

Most readers of this article would want to distance themselves from what might be regarded as the lunatic fringe of contemporary Christianity. But there is more to discernment. True discernment means not only distinguishing the right from the wrong; it means distinguishing the primary from the secondary, the essential from the indifferent, the permanent from the transient, the good and the better from the best.

Thus discernment is like the physical senses; to some it is given as a special grace gift (1Cor. 12:10), but a measure of it is essential for us all, and must be constantly nourished. The Christian must take care to nourish his "sixth sense" of spiritual discernment. This is why the psalmist prays, "Teach me knowledge and good judgment" (Ps. 119:66).

But what is discernment? In Scripture (as Ps. 119:66 indicates) it is the ability to make discriminating judgments, to distinguish between, and recognize the moral implications of, different situations and courses of action. It includes, apparently, the ability to "weigh up" and assess the moral and spiritual status of individuals, groups and even movements. Thus, while warning us against judgmentalism, Jesus urges us to be discerning and discriminating, lest we cast our pearls before pigs (Matt. 7:1, 6).

The most remarkable example of such discernment is described in John 2:24-25: "Jesus would not entrust himself to them . . . for he knew what was in a man." This is discernment without judgmentalism. It involved our Lord's knowledge of God's Word (he, supremely had prayed, "Teach me . . . good judgment, for I believe in your commands" [Ps. 119:66]) and his observation of God's ways with men. Doubtless his discernment grew as he himself experienced conflict with, and victory over, temptation and measured what is by what ought to be.

Christ's discernment penetrates to the deepest reaches of the heart, but it is of the same type as the discernment the Christian is to develop, for the only discernment we possess is that which we receive in union with Christ, by the Spirit, through God's Word.

Discernment is learning to "think God's thoughts after him," practically and spiritually; it means having a sense of how things look in God's eyes, and seeing them in some measure "uncovered and laid bare."

How should this discernment affect the way we live? It acts as a means of protection, guarding us from being deceived spiritually. We are not blown away by the winds of teaching that make central an element of the gospel that is peripheral, or treat a particular application of Scripture as though it were Scripture's central message.

Discernment also acts as an instrument of healing, when exercised in grace. I have known a small number of people whose ability to offer a diagnosis of the spiritual needs of others has been remarkable. They have diagnosed others' spiritual condition better than the people themselves could ever do. When exercised in love, discernment can be the healing knife in spiritual surgery.

Again, discernment can function as the key to Christian freedom. The zealous but undiscerning Christian becomes enslaved—to others, to his own uneducated conscience, to an unbiblical pattern of life. From such bondage, growth in discernment sets us free, enabling us to distinguish practices that may be helpful in some circumstances from those that are mandated in all circumstances.

In a different way, true discernment enables the freed Christian to recognize that the exercise of freedom in any given respect is not essential to the enjoyment of it.

Finally, discernment serves as a catalyst to spiritual development: "The mocker seeks wisdom and finds none, but knowledge comes easily to the discerning" (Prov. 14:6). Why? Because the discerning Christian goes to the heart of the matter. He knows something about everything, namely that all things have their common fountain in God. Increase in knowledge therefore does not lead to increased frustration, but to a deeper recognition of the harmony of all God's works and words.

How is such discernment to be obtained? We receive it as did Christ himself—by the anointing of the Spirit: through our understanding of God's Word, by our experience of God's grace and by the progressive unfolding to us of the true condition of our own hearts. That is why we should pray; "I am your servant, give me discernment" (Ps. 119:25).

Thank You Notes

Dear Friends at First Baptist Church:

I wanted to let you know how greatly I appreciated your deep kindness in sending out the Valentine's box full of goodies this year! Once again, I was thrilled when I found out what was inside!

The congregation at First Baptist of St. Johns has been a great blessing to me, and I want to thank each of you for your encouragement and thoughtfulness. May the Lord bless each of you in a deep and special way for your "distributing to the necessity of the saints" - Romans 12:13

On the Lighter Side . . .

The Haircut

A teenage boy had just passed his driving test and inquired of his father as to when they could discuss his use of the car.

His father said he'd make a deal with his son, "You bring your grades up from a C to a B average, study your Bible a little, and get your hair cut. Then we'll talk about the car." The boy thought about that for a moment, decided he'd settle for the offer, and they agreed on it.

After about six weeks his father said, "Son, you've brought your grades up and I've observed that you have been studying your Bible, but I'm disappointed you haven't had your hair cut."

The boy said, "You know, Dad, I've been thinking about that, and I've noticed in my studies of the Bible that Samson had long hair, John the Baptist had long hair, Moses had long hair, and there's even strong evidence that Jesus had long hair."

(You're going to love the Dad's reply!)

"Did you also notice they all walked everywhere they went?"
